

Tax

Innoprise's Tax Software is designed to be so open and flexible that it can co-exist in a collaborative environment with your other existing systems or run individually. Data entry and retrieval is optimized through an intuitive web-browser interface with a Windows theme. Internet account maintenance and online tax return submissions are integrated into the system. Innoprise tax software brings a new level of efficiency to governmental agencies. Innoprise offers the best technology, the best design, and the best value.

Robust Reporting

The Innoprise solution has several easy-to-use built-in reporting tools. Tax specialists can search for information, organize it on the screen, and generate reports from the data represented into Excel® files. The ability to extract this information into spreadsheets makes it possible for users to analyze tax information by creating charts, graphs, and special format reports without any IT assistance.

Benefits

Tailor the system. Customize the information and its order on a screen on a user-by-user basis to improve productivity.

Finding information is easy. Search, find, and analyze data with advanced filtering and query tools.

Discover freedom in reporting. Users across the enterprise can extract information to create ad-hoc reports, charts, and spreadsheets. Reports are available in HTML, PDF, or Excel®.

Dynamic information. Select the type of information displayed on the screen by using the column configuration tool.

Minimal technology investment. Each user only needs a web browser to access the application, eliminating costly hardware, and software upgrades. Provides maximum flexibility for IT through platform and database independence.

Ease of use. Intuitive look and feel is familiar to users who are accustomed to Microsoft® Windows.

Global Features

- Site defined fields

“From a user's viewpoint, having two separate tax systems was inefficient and cumbersome. We would have to bounce between both systems to make sure that all taxpayers were paid up to date. Now our staff is enjoying all the benefits of our new tax software from ad-hoc reporting, to automatic license approvals, to Microsoft Office integration. These new features along with integrating our old systems have lead to a new level of efficiency in our department.”
